

SELECTION QUICK CHECK

Score

The All-American Slurp by Lensey Namioka (page 40)

Read each of the following questions. Answer each question in a complete sentence.

1. At the Gleasons' dinner party, what do the Lins eat that they have never eaten before? _____

2. In what way does the narrator conclude that her mother and Meg's mother are alike as givers of dinner parties? _____

3. What is the difference between the narrator's school clothes and those of other girls in her class? _____

4. How do respectable Chinese show their appreciation of soup? _____

5. According to Meg Gleason, what food do all Americans slurp? _____

