

● Evidence for Evolution

Complete the following sentences using the appropriate words from the textbook.

1. Elements whose atoms give off radiation are called _____.
2. A body part which is reduced in size and seems to have no function is called a _____.
3. Body parts that are similar in their origin and structure are called _____.
4. Remains of life from an earlier time are called _____.
5. The method of dating fossils by their position in rock layers is called _____.
6. The study of the development of embryos is called _____.
7. The type of rock formed by fine particles, such as mud and sand, that contains many fossils is _____.

Look at the drawing of layers of rock. Each letter stands for a fossil find. Answer the following questions about the drawing.

8. Which fossil, the one at point A or point B, is older? Explain your answer.

9. Which fossil, the one at point A or point D, is older? Explain your answer.

10. Compare the relative ages of fossils found at point A and point C. Explain your answer.
